IV. Reading Comprehension 閱讀測驗：31 至 40 題，請閱讀文章後選出正確答案。

“Weak eyesight” is a term that is generally used to refer to nearsighted eyes. People who are nearsighted can see well at a short range, but anything very far away at all is likely to be a dull blur. The term “weak eyesight” is misleading, for in a nearsighted eye, the lens is actually too strong. The nearsighted lens is so powerful that it focuses the light coming into the eye too quickly. The image is formed in front of the retina, which contains optical nerves. Nearsightedness is common, and its growth may be gradual. Often the blurring of distant objects is so slight at first that a person may not recognize the condition. Nearsightedness is frequently first discovered at school. Therefore, a student first realizes his difficulty of seeing words on the blackboard, whereas others in the class have no trouble reading the board at all. After discovery, nearsightedness can easily be corrected. A concave lens, called a “minus lens” because it subtracts from the power of the eye’s own lens, is the prescription.

31. Which is true of people who are nearsighted?
 (A) They have a blurry view of faraway objects.
 (B) They can see things far away very clearly.
 (C) They can’t see things far away at all.
 (D) They should eat more carrots.

32. How are the lenses of nearsighted eyes?
- (A) Cloudy
 - (B) Too strong
 - (C) Concave
 - (D) Blurry
33. According to the passage, which is true?
- (A) The retina contains a lens.
 - (B) The retina is blurry.
 - (C) The retina contains optical nerves.
 - (D) The retina is too strong.
34. Nearsightedness is frequently discovered
- (A) when people learn to drive.
 - (B) at home.
 - (C) when students try to read books.
 - (D) at school.
35. We know from the passage that a concave lens
- (A) can easily be corrected.
 - (B) subtracts from the power of the lens of the eye.
 - (C) forms images.
 - (D) is called a "plus sign."

The locations of stars in the sky relative to one another do not appear to the naked eye to change, and as a result stars are often considered to be fixed in position. In reality, though, stars are always moving, but because of the tremendous distances from the stars to the Earth and among the stars themselves, these changes are barely perceptible from here. It takes approximately 200 years for a fast-moving star like Bernard's star to move a perceived distance in the skies equal to the diameter of the Earth's moon. When the apparently negligible movement of the stars is contrasted with the movements of the planets, the stars are seemingly unmoving.

36. Which of the following is the best title for this passage?
- (A) Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star
 - (B) Stars and the Earth
 - (C) The Movement of Stars
 - (D) Comparison Between Stars and Planets
37. According to the passage, why are stars often considered to be fixed in position?
- (A) The Stars have never moved a bit since the birth of the universe.
 - (B) Human eyesight is too weak to see the stars clearly.
 - (C) Stars are very far away from one another and from the earth.
 - (D) Stars move so fast that the movement is imperceptible to the naked eye.
38. The word "barely" can best be replaced by
- (A) bear.
 - (B) hardly
 - (C) quickly
 - (D) generally.
39. The author states in the passage that
- (A) the locations of stars in the sky take about 200 years to change.
 - (B) the diameter of the Earth's moon is equal to that of Bernard's star.
 - (C) the idea that stars are fixed in position is wrong.
 - (D) Bernard's star is the fastest among moving stars.

(背面仍有試題)

40. What does the last sentence mean?

- (A) Stars seem to move very much slower than planets.
- (B) Stars move with planets, so we cannot tell whether they really move or not.
- (C) Planets move so fast that we can only see stars in the sky.
- (D) Stars stop moving when they come close to planets.
